

WePay Overview

WePay, a Chase company, helps platforms boost revenue by integrating payments into their own user experience, all without friction or fraud.

We've helped over 1,000 partners - including Volusion, TouchBistro, and FreshBooks - earn incremental revenue by offering an unmatched payments solution. They chose WePay for the following reasons:

- Instant onboarding so merchants can sign up and accept payments right away
- Flexibility in building a white-labeled experience, or using WePay's hosted payments flow
- Omnichannel solutions to securely accept both card-not-present and card-present transactions
- Peace of mind with 100% platform loss protection for payments-related financial and regulatory risk

We provide everything you need to seamlessly facilitate payments between your users (e.g. payers and merchants, donors and organizers) without the burden of building out your own payment capabilities.

Fundamentals of Integrated Payments

Small and medium-sized businesses (SMBs) are increasingly using online platforms to help them grow faster and run better. These platforms enable SMBs to sell their products, invoice their clients, and manage their businesses.

When platforms integrate payments into their software, they can create a seamless experience for buyers and sellers while also driving incremental revenue for their business.

The benefits of WePay's integrated payments solution include:

- Instant merchant onboarding
- Payment flexibility for merchants and buyers
- Customizable integrations and onboarding flows
- Point-of-sale offerings to capture more revenue
- 100% coverage for payments-related risk
- Support for your internal and external stakeholders
